Custom status is not reloaded correctly

If a custom status is registered from a plugin and user is running Foreman in development mode, status class is not correctly reloaded in HostStatus.status_registry. When we later iterate over it, status is missing there and is not refreshed. To reproduce, install e.g. remote execution plugin and try to do some change in code. After another job invocation, the status is not updated (good place to observe with pry is finalize method of RunHostJob action).
